WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

"Occasional,' the energetic and well-informed Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, thus writes to that paper in a late letter. We call particular attention to what is said of a letter written by Buchanan to Gov. Walker during the latter's official residence in Kansas, in which our model Democratic President "denounced the ingratitude and bad faith of the South with fierce contempt, and pledged his own honor to sustain Governor Walker in the course he was then pursuing!' But here is the extract:

"The President is cheered in his solitude by several lively companions, among whom is Mr. Bigler, Senator from Pennsylvania. Mr. Bigler is the conservative medium who stands between his patron and the fiery South. He is now watching the streaks in a lurid sky to discern the signs of a compromise on Kansas, which is not dead, and between the Administration and Douglas, who was never more lively. A tremendous deputation will in a few days wait upon Mr. Buchanan from the South, demanding the recall of the prodigal son, the penitent giant from Illinois. And the suit of the deputies will be granted. Mr. Douglas will be restored, and the Executive dogs will be called off.

"Mr. Bigler complains that Mr. Stanton, of Kansas, has published a private letter of his, wherein he states the obvious truth that the Administration was desirous to sustain Walker and Stanton in their Kansas policy, but was rather weak in the knees. This profound remark was wonderfully illustrated a few months afterwards, when both Stanton and Walker were dismissed from office with the warm approval of Mr. Bigler.

"There is another private letter, written about the same time by Mr. Buchanan to Gov. Walker, which would more endamage the writer, if published, than anything that has yet occurred in his public career. In that letter he denounces the ingratitude and bad faith of the South with fierce contempt, and pledges his own honor to sustain Governor Walker in the course he was then pursuing. But that letter will not appear in print until after the nomination in 1860.'

Icy Reply.

It will be recollected that the members of the Wisconsin Legislature and divers and sundry other persons have been charged with receiving from the La Cross and Milwaukee Railroad Company a bribe, in the shape of the bonds of that Company. At a recent meeting of the officers of said Company circulars were ordered to be issued to the holders of these bonds, requesting them to return the same. A gentleman by the name of Woodle, who received one of these circulars, replied to it as follows:

JANESVILLE, July 16, 1858.

SIR:—Your kind favor of the 16th instant, informed me that a committee had been appointed by the Board of Directors of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad Company for the purpose of calling in the bonds familiarly know as the "corruption bonds,' has been received. You trust that I will see the importance of immediately returning to the Company the bonds received by me.

In reply, permit me to say that, by the aid of my optics, I have as yet been unable to see the importance of returning the said bonds to the Company, although I am not near sighted and have "looked.'

I have, however, sir, to ask that you will defer any further action on the subject until I shall have received Lord Ross' telescope; for which I have sent a special messenger this morning, and through which, when received, I will take another observation. Hoping that you will be able to refund your floating debt, and pay your coupons, I remain yours in the 'bonds,' &c.

THE GRAIN TRADE.—The Chicago Times of the 22d instant says: "The shipments from this port by lake yesterday, of corn alone, amounted to 230,646 bushels, besides 30,000 bushels of wheat. No. 1 spring wheat is now selling here at $1,02 cents on board, and $1 in store for new receipts; and for No. 2 spring 99 cents on board is paid. The best corn sells readily at 72 cents on board."

MR. JEFFERSON'S HOSPITALITY.

Mr. S. H. Randall has written the life of Thomas Jefferson, which has just been published. We extract a few paragraphs to show the advantages of notoriety, and the benefit derived from keeping "open doors," or from having the "latch-string" always out:—

"Mr. Jefferson, while in the public service, was compelled to neglect his large plantations, and therefore, in retiring, found himself in debt. This he soon expected to extinguish, from the proceeds of his farms, and would have done so, but for an unforeseen cause. Monticello became a Mecca for all sorts of pilgrims. His mansion was more thronged than a popular hotel; and with this difference, that his guests did not go away! Friends would remain weeks and even months. And this excess of company, continuing year after year, actually impoverished a too generous host. But let us take Mr. Randall's account:

"We have already introduced to the reader old Wormly, a gray haired servant of Mr. Jefferson. We once stood with him before the dilapidated pile of Monticello. The carriage-houses, three in number, were at the moment before our eye. Each would hold a four-horse coach. We inquired, 'Wormly, how often were these filled, in Mr. Jefferson's time?' 'Every night, sir, in summer, and we commonly had two or three carriages under that tree,' said he, pointing to a large tree. 'It took all hands to take care of your visitors?' we suggested. 'Yes, sir,' and the whole farm to feed them,' was the concise and significant reply. The last was a literal truth, and expressed less than the fact. We find in a list of Mr Jefferson's allotments of his servants, between farming, mechanical and menial occupations, as early as 1810, that the house servants (including children) numbered 37. The whole Monticello estate, so far as he had laborers to work it, did not, in some years, furnish a surplus of food sufficient for his guests, and their horses and servants!

"The general mode of travelling then in Virginia was on horseback, or by carriages drawn by at least two horses; and strangers who came from a distance very generally took carriages from some Virginia town. Male and female servants much more commonly accompanied travelers than now.—Mrs. Randolph, who presided over the domestic establishment at Monticello, being once asked what was the greatest number of guests she had ever been called upon to provide beds for over night, she replied, 'she believed fifty!' Not only was everything which was raised at Monticello thus consumed, or exchanged for articles of consumption, but heavy drafts were often made on the Bedford estate.

"And such a horde of fashionable company consume something beside common farm products. [illegible]ment, he was asked by his daughter on what scale he desired to live—how he would have the appointments of his table, 'I will live like a plain country gentleman,' was the answer. But this standard could not be followed under the actual circumstances. A delicious Virginia ham on its bed of greens, engirdled by its rim of eggs, (a la Old Dominion,) and a slice of chicken or turkey, might do very well for a 'plain country gentleman's' dinner two or three times a week, and these could be had for the asking on every Virginia farm. But people of fashion, to say nothing of 'New England judges,' might not expect to be kept three weeks on ham and turkey! Claret might suffice a 'plain country gentleman,' particularly if, as in Mr. Jefferson's case, he preferred it to all summer wines. His visitors might choose something else; and it is not for the hospitable and supposed wealthy entertainer to impose his tastes on his guests. No person need be told that 'entertaining handsomely' is an expensive amusement.

Renegade Whigs.

The Petersburg Intelligencer, referring to the North Carolina election, truly and forcibly says:

It is beyound all manner of question a most disgusting spectacle to see such men as Ransom and Miller, after making the hills and valleys far and near echo and re-echo with their thundering denunciations of Democracy, coolly cast off their Whig armour, and put on the brazen panoply of that very Democracy! A Christian swearing by the Koran is scarcely a more scandalous specimen of renegadism, than an old Whig wallowing in the mire of Democracy. We wonder equally in both cases at the revolting versatility of faith and infirmity of principle which are exhibited.

Democracy, always an insidious and dangerous enemy to the people, has been growing worse and worse in its nature and aims of late years: Yet it is in this its most demoralized and demoralizing stage, that it has enticed over to its motley ranks more of its opponents than ever before. Toombs, Stephens, Clingman, Faulkner, Wise, with a hundred others that used to make the welkin ring with their burning anathemas against this most despotic and corrupt party, as they once painted it, are all now vociferating its praises and wearing its livery, just as if it were the most exquisitely virtuous political organization that ever showered blessings on a people. It is the very same party, in a far more deteriorated condition, now, that it was in 1840, when all these men were driving their daggers into its vitals.—Lynchburg Virginian.

☞ The Hon. James L. Orr, speaker of the house of representatives, said:—

"With regard to slavery he thought it better protected now under the government than it had been for thirty years. As to the future, he was for cooperation with the Democratic party. He would go into convention, go into caucus, seek to have an influence in it by ruling and controlling it."

RETIREMENT OF MR. GIDDINGS.

Mr. Weed, the veteran editor of the Albany Evening Journal, in announcing the nomination of Mr. Hutchins who supercedes Mr. Giddings in the 21st Oio District, thus remarks of Mr. Giddings and refers to the past:

So ends the long service of the "Father of the House." Failing health compels his withdrawal from the scene of his labors. The Twenty years that have passed over him there have whitened his head and bent his shoulders, but they have never found his voice faltering or his heart wavering in the struggle for Freedom.

Every chair in the Old Hall of Representatives must be fraught with memories of the past to the "Senior Member!" He has seen generations of short-lived politicans rise, fall, and become forgotten. He has seen faithful public servants removed to other trusts, and many to another world. Round the entire circle of the Hall his eye fails to find a single member who sat there when he entered it, and who has sat there with him since. Adams has gone to his reward. Ogden Hoffman, Charles G. Atherton, Leverett Saltonstall, Edward Curtis, Barnwell Rhett, Dixon H. Lewis, and many others are also gone the way of all the earth. Hunter and Bell are transferred to the Senate. Wise to the Gubernatorial chair. Brown is dispensing the patronage of the Post Office Department. Clifford wears the silken judicial robe of the Supreme Court. Stanly has gone to that then terra incognita, California.—Truman Smith, Cooper, Weller and Williams, after exchanging Representative for Senatorial honors, are departed from the Capitol. Corwin, after a brilliant career as Governor, Senator and Secretary, is proposing to return again to the field of his early distinction. Pickens and Hopkins have been trying the pleasures of Foreign Courts. Briggs and Lincoln are ex-Governors. Granger and Cave Johnson are Ex-Postmasters General. Strong and Marvin are on the New York Bench. Moses H. Grinnell, Christopher Morgan, and Thomas Kempshall are still co-laborers in the good cause as of yore, though no longer companions in office.

Like changes have altered the aspect of the Senate Chamber. Clay, Webster, Benton and Calhoun, then in the zenith of fame, now live only in history. Buchanan occupies the White House. Pierce has lately left it. Wm. L. King became Vice President and died abroad. The grave has closed over Silas Wright and "Honest John" Davis. Walker has had ups and downs with every turn of the wheel of Fortune and is now Ex-Governor of a place that he then had never heard of. The only Chair that retains its old occupant is that filled by John J. Crittenden, the veteran of the Senate, as Giddings is of the [illegible] turned into Republics and Republics into Kingdoms; six new States have entered the Union; and three new Territories have been brought under our flag; Presidents have gone up like rockets and come down like sticks; Compromises have been made and broken; War has followed Peace, and Peace again succeeded War; Trade has expanded and collapsed; Parties have risen, flourished and decayed; Platforms have been built and torn down again—since he took a seat in the Hall of Representatives, but during all these changes Joshua R. Giddings has proved alike faithful to friend and fearless to foe. His successor can have no higher ambition than to leave as unblemished a record.

The Crops in France.

Now that it is well ascertained from the accounts received throughout the various agricultural districts in France that the wheat crop is equal to that of a good ordinary year, and that no apprehension need be entertained of an exportation of the precious metals for the purchase of food, a more lively spirit of speculation is observable in the manufacturing districts. This fact together with the vast amount of unemployed capital, leads to the belief that the ensuing winter season will be more prosperous for merchants and manufacturers than the last.—Accounts from the manufacturing districts state that they have been visited by several commission agents from Russia and the United States, and some orders have been given. Raw cotton and woollen are rising, while the stocks in the bonded stores are being gradually reduced. The Paris flour market was heavy last week, in consequence of a large delivery on Monday which produced an impression on the market. On Friday flour of the best marks could not find buyers at more than 54f. the sac of 157 kilogrammes; and finally, some [illegible] bargains were made for delivery in November at 54f. Accounts from the departments announce a fall in the corn markets of Bordeaux and the Upper Languedoc.

WAX POISONS.—Few persons, especially perhaps, of the many young ladies who practice the very pleasant art of modeling fruits, flowers, &c, in wax, at all suspect the danger in which they are placed from the poisonous nature of the coloring matter of the wax which they handle so unsuspectingly. The white wax, for instance, contains white lead; the green, copper; the yellow, chrome yellow; the orange, chrome yellow; the orange, chrome yellow and vermillion—strong poisons all—while many other kinds of waxes are equally poisonous, and therefore, dangerous. Several cases are known in which young ladies have been attacked with partial paralysis of the hands and arms, after having devoted some time to the practice of modeling.

LONGEVITY.—There is a very remarkable case of longevity in one family in Nelson county, Virginia. There are five married sisters whose aggregate ages amount to 434 years; on the 1st January last the eldest was 93, the second 91, the third 38, the fourth 82, and fifth 80.

MAIL CARRYING IN OLD TIMES.

In 1775, a mail route was established to run from Alexandria by way of Leesburg, Winchester, Cumberland and Bedford to Pittsburgh. In 1778, a similar route running through Lancaster, York, Carlisle, Chambersburg, and Bedford, was established to Pittsburgh. The law passed by Congress ordained that the mail should be carried over this route once in each fortnight. From this point the mails or communications had to be sent by special messenger, a mode which was both costly and uncertain. In 1784, the Postmaster-General, with Major Craig, of Pittsburgh, and Col. O'Hara, devised a plan for insuring regular mails up and down the Ohio. Light but strong boats were built, designed to be manned by a steersman and four oarsmen. As the savages were still hostile, every man on the boat was armed. The crew carried with them the means of doing their own cooking, which they usually did on some Island, as less liable to surprise from the savages there. These mail boats would make about sixty miles with the current, and about half that distance when ascending the river.—The mail was carried overland from Pittsburgh to Wheeling. Thence to Cincinnati the route was divided into four stages or relays. The relay stations were Marietta, Gallipolis and Maysville. By this means the mail was carried in six days from Wheeling to Cincinnati, and in about twelve days from Cincinnati to Wheeling. These boats often carried passengers, and so cautious were the men in their voyages that the Indians never made but one attack on a mail boat.

When this arrangement was made, the people of Newport, Marietta, Harmar, Belpre, Gallipolis, Maysville, and Cincinnati felt as if it brought them a great deal nearer their old homes. A letter from Cincinnati to Philadelphia or Boston, would accomplish its journey by this "Swiftsure Line" in three or four weeks. It was an era in the history of mails and travel at the West.

In 1798, the Indians having received their quietus at the hands of Gen. Wayne, this line of travel was abandoned for horseback mail. The route extended from Wheeling to Zanesville, and thence through the heart of the State to Cincinnati. The mail for Marietta and other places, was brought on horseback from Zanesville. As the population increased, the mail facilities were increased also, until at Zanesville one mail a week was received from the East.

The Laws of Divorce.

We have thirty-two States, and there are almost as many different laws of divorce as there are States. The reader may see some of these differences by the following statement:

[illegible] of the Legislature [illegible] court to make [illegible] decision by the court.

2. In Deleware, Maryland, Virginia, South Carolina, Louisiana, and Missouri, no divorce can be granted but by special act of the Legislature, and South Carolina has never granted a divorce.

3. In the States of Connecticut, Ohio, and Illinois, all divorces are total.

4. In Massachusetts, New York, and North Carolina, nothing but adultery is cause of divorce.

5. In Illinois, two years' absence only is a cause of divorce.

6. In Indiana, we believe, anything is a cause, in the discretion of the court.—Cin. Gaz.

AN ORGANIC DIFFICULTY.—A parish in the west of England, after much effort lately purchased a self-acting organ, warranted to play twenty tunes, and a larger congregation than usual met to inaugurate it. The first psalm had been successfully brought to an end, when after a short pause, the organ chose to commence psalm number two. In vain the officiating person endeavored to stop it; in vain the church wardens left their own pews to stifle its noise; still the organ as though uncontrollably pleased with its own execution, kept on with the new air. What was to be done? The service was suspended, in the hope that the musical stranger might be content when the second tune was played out. Vain expectation! It commenced number three! and nothing remained but to carry the instrument into the churchyard, and there to cover it with the vestry carpet to choke its voice, for on and on it went till the number of twenty had been played out, much to the edification of the less attentive part of the congregation, who could only hear half smothered melodies.—London Times.

AN EDITOR TIGHT.—We believe it is rare that editors indulge in a drop, but when they do, their readers are sure to find them out. A Syracuse cotemporary was called upon to record a 'melancholy event' at a time when his head was rather heavy, and did it up after the following manner: 'Yesterday morning, at 4 o'clock, P. M., a man with a heel in the hole of his stocking, committed arsenic by swallowing a dose of suicide. The inquest of the verdict returned a jury that the deceased came to the facts in accordance with his death. He leaves a child and six small wives to lament the end of his untimely loss. In death we are in the midst of life!'

LARGE INCOMES IN ENGLAND.—There are forty-six persons in England who have incomes of £150,000 a year, equal to two millions and a quarter dollars, while four hundred and forty-four have incomes ranging from fifty to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year, and eight hundred and eleven from twenty-five to fifty thousand. In Ireland there is but one person who has an income of upwards of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; twenty-one have incomes from fifty thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand, and thirty from twenty-five to fifty thousand dollars.

MUSIC IN SCHOOLS.

The following is an extract from a speech of Governer Banks, of Massachusetts, delivered at Music Hall, Boston, on the occasion of the inauguration of a new series of musical festivals at the recent Annual Exhibition of the Public Schools of that city:

"The study of music is one of the most practical studies in which men or women can engage. There is no hour of the day, no hour of life, no occupation in which men or women may be engaged, when the power of impressing the human thought or the human sympathies in harmonious numbers is not only practicable, but where it is not needed. It sweetens the atmosphere of the boudoir; it makes more pleasant the darkened shop of the artisan, in the street, it takes the place of riot and ribaldry; and in whatever association or on whatever occasion men or women may be gathered, the power of common utterance and human sympathies in these harmonious numbers, as expressed by that most majestic organ, the human voice, never, never can be heard, without moving the heart to its deepest, highest, and serenest pleasure.

"More than that, teaching music in the common schools is the first step in physical culture. It is a step of the most important character. It is the culture of the voice, the human voice—that organ which has more power over the world than any other power of which man is the possessor. More than the lore of the schools, more than the attainment of science, more than the cunning of the artisan and the craftsman, more than the skill of the professor, the human voice can mould and direct the masses of men in the right way, to the general good. And there can be no culture of this majestic organ, of which alone the poet has well said that it has the power of there can be no general culture of that organ, except it be through the instrumentality of teaching music in the common schools, to the high and low, to the learned and the unlearned, to those who have taste, and to these who have come to acquire taste. And to give this power to one and to all, is the only method and the only principle we have to improve and increase us in the use of the finest instrument with which God has strengthened the human system."

'Untwisting all the links that tie
The hidden soul of harmony;'

More Zeal than Discretion.

Not a bad joke is told of one of the New York night inspectors. It happened a few evenings since, shortly after the wharf watch was seen to l[illegible]-looking countryman [illegible], with a suspicious looking bundle in his [illegible] one, and the stranger tugged along slowly up the pier with it, and turned the corner, sweating under his load.

"Aha! my fine fellow,' ejaculated the lynx-eyed inspector—a sharp-set official, by the way—"aha! I have got you this time.' And approaching the countryman, he said:

"Good evening. Let me relieve you of that load, my friend.'

"Eh?' responded the man, uneasily.

"I'll take that bundle, if you please.'

"Thank you.'

"It's heavy, isn't it?' said the officer.

"Yes. Which way are you goin', naybur?'

"Come along—it's all right; I'll take care of this—come on.'

"Exactly. Much obliged. It's tarnal heavy, and I've got to git up to the Howard House.'

"Come along,' continued the officer, knowingly—"we'll see about that! and in a few minutes they reached the Howard; when the stranger observed that the inspector had no idea of halting.

"Hallo! which way, friend? I'm stopping here,' said the countryman.

"It's no matter. I've seized this property, and you can explain matters at the Custom House, to-morrow,' continued the inspector.

"Luk here, friend! Not tew fast, if you please. I've paid my dooties on that 'ere lot of goods. Jest yew look at this neow,' and he drew forth a bit of paper from his vest pocket, signed by the Collector.

"Why, you scamp!' said the inspector, "this is a permit for your goods. Why didn't you show this before?'

"Why, in the fust place, yew didn't ask me tew; and in the next place, ef I had, you'd seed me break my neck afore you'd a bro't that bundle clear up here for me, I know!"

The inspector blowed his nose, and, cursing the countryman for a fool, turned down Pine street, instanter, to resume his lonely round. The stranger put his parcel in the charge of the servant, and grinned a ghastly grin, as the over zealous watchman departed.

BEET ROOT SUGAR.—The increase in France of the production of beet-root sugar is such as to be likely quite to dispense with the necessity of reviving the slave-trade for the sake of furnishing the French sugar colonies with labor adequate to the production of the sugar needed in France. The amount produced in 1851, was 64,000,000, kilgrammes; in 1854, 77,000,000; in 1857, 83,000,000; and this year it will not be less than 106,000,000. A kilogramme, it will be recollected, is about two and a fifth of our pounds. The high price of grain has checked the beet cultivation for three or four years past, but at present prices many new adventurers will go into it. In fact, the home-made is gaining so fast on the colonial production of sugar that the Chamber of Commerce of Nantes calls loudly for a protective duty in favor of the colonies, whose sugar, it is said, ought to be encouraged on account of the large quantity of shipping employed in its transportaion.

A DOCTOR'S LIFE.

The following are some of the sweets of a doctor's life.

"If he visits a few of his customers when they are well, it is to get his dinner; if he don't do so, it is because he cares more about the fleece than the flock. If he goes to church regularly, is is because he has nothing else to do; if he don't it is because he has no respect for the Sabbath or religion. If he speaks to a poor person he keeps bad company; if he passes them by, he is better than other folks. If he has a good carriage, he is extravagant; if he uses a poor one, on the score of economy, he is deficient in necessary pride. If he makes parties, it is to soft-soap the people to get their money; if he don't make them, he is afraid of a cent! If his horse is fat, it is because he has nothing to do; if he is lean, it is because he isn't taken care of. If he drives fast, it is to make people think somebody is very sick; if he drives slow, he has no interest in the welfare of his patients.—If he dresses neat, he is proud; if he does not, he is wanting in self-respect. If he works on the land, he is fit for nothing but a farmer; if he don't work, he is too lazy to be anything; if he talks much, 'we don't want a doctor to tell everything he knows;' if he don't talk, 'we like to see a doctor social.'

If he says anything about politics, he had better let it alone; if he don't say anything about it, 'we like to see a man show his colors.' If he visits his patients every day, it is to run up a bill; if he don't it is unjustifiable negligence. If he says anything about religion, he is a hypocrite; if he don't, he is an infidel. If he uses any of the popular remedies of the day, it is to cater to the whims and prejudices of the people to fill his pockets; if he don't use them, it is from professional selfishness.—If he is in the habit of having counsel often, it is because he knows nothing; if he objects to it on the ground that he understands his own business, he is afraid of exposing his ignorance to his superiors.—If he gets pay for one-half his services, he has the reputation of being a great manager.

A Wonderful President.

In a late number of the Albany Evening Journal, Thurlow Weed tells what a wonderful President we have in Mr. Buchanan, in the following words:

"He entered the White House with a promise of freedom to Kansas on his lips, and a scheme for enslaving it in his pocket. He declared war against circulating notes, and in six weeks was issuing them himself. Before the ink was dry with which he pledged 'Economy,' he had drained the treasury of its last dollar. By [illegible]flexible determination never to borrow, he [illegible] final end of the slavery agitation, and he has been agitating it ever since. He ordered Paulding to stop the filibusters, and then recalled him for doing it. Walker of Nicaragua he pronounced an outlaw, and tendered him the hospitalities of the White House. Walker of Kansas he furnished with written instructions, and turned him out for obeying them.

He withdrew the troops from Utah, where he proclaimed there was war, in order to keep them in Kansas, where he insisted all was peace. He sells forts at the West for a tithe of their cost, in order to buy sites at the East, ten times their value—his subordinates in both cases pocketing the difference. He is continually asking for new steam frigates; but will not use those he has either on the coast of Africa or in the Gulf of Mexico. He sends out a steamer ostensibly to catch the Styx, but with private orders in the captain's desk to do nothing of the sort. Claiming to be the most frugal of Presidents, he has spent more than any of his predecessors. Assuming to be above party prejudices, he makes partizanship the basis of his invitations to dinner."

SLEEPING CARS ON RAILROADS.—Our attention has been called to the happy invention of sleeping cars on railroads, an improvement that will do away with a good deal of the tediousness of railroad travel. A friend writing to us from New York, says he has tested the sleeping cars, and finds them an admirable invention, making night travel on a railroad as pleasant, comfortable, and desirable as the best of steamboat travel, and the bed arrangements on the cars equal in ease and comfort to the best bed in a hotel. The traveller going East, by taking the Columbus and Cleveland road, can enjoy the luxury of the sleeping cars. Passengers for Pittsburg and Philadelphia, by taking the Cleveland road, can sleep till 5 o'clock in the morning, on the cars. The old established railroad, via Crestline or Cleveland, has the credit of establishing these great conveniencies to the weary traveler, and we learn from the generel ticket agent at Cleveland, that the sleeping cars are a fixed fact on each night train on his line.—Louisville Courier.

☞ We have already noticed the acquittal of Easton and his female companion, who were charged with firing Thorne's theatre, by which half of Leavenworth, Kansas, was burned. The female is decidedly 'fast,' if we may credit the Ledger, of that city:

"On their way up the river, the lady, who sometimes plays boys' parts in dramas, somewhat astonished the plain people who were her fellow passengers on board the Tanum, by making her appearance in a full suit of male attire, and acting out the character of a 'fast' young man, with all the gusto of a 'regular brick.' With her feet on the guards, and a cigar in her mouth, she puffed away with a vigor that was only excelled by the smoke-stacks of the boat, and dashed off her cock-tails in such rapid succession as to put the barkeeper in the best of humor with everybody on board.

GOLD IN KANSAS TERRITORY.

We were surprised this morning (Aug. 26th) to meet Mons. Bordeau and company, old mountain traders, just in from Pike's Peak.

They came for outfits, tools, etc., for working the newly discovered gold mines on Cherry Creek, a tributary of the South Platte.

They bring several ounces of gold, dug up by the trappers of that region, which in fineness equals the choicest of California specimens.

Mr. John Cantrell an old citizen of Westport, has three ounces which he dug out with a hatchet in Cherry Creek and washed out with a frying pan.

Mons Richard, an old French trapper, has several ounces of the precious dust, which he dug with an axe.

Mons. Boessinette has several rich specimens.

The party consists of nine men, all of them old mountaineers, who have spent their lives in the mountains. Mons Bordeau has not been in the States for nine years, until the present time.

We have refrained from giving too great credence to these gold discoveries until assured of their truth, but it would be unjust to the country longer to withhold the facts, of which there can be no longer a doubt.

Kansas City is alive with excitement, and parties are already preparing for the diggins.

In order to give a correct idea of the locality of these new mines, we will state that they are on Cherry Creek, one of the most Southern branches of the South Platte, in the centre of the best hunting grounds of the Rocky Mountains. Game exists in great abundance, and plenty of timber, water and grass. They are in latitude 38° and doubtless extend to all the streams of that region. The waters of the Arkansas and the South Fork of the Platte rise together about the same parrallel and no doubt all partake of the same auriferous character.

The best route for emigration to take, is by the great Santa Fe road to Council Grove, Walnut Creek, or the crossing of the Arkansas, by Beale, Fremont and Gannison's route, to the Huefano, thence following the Arkansas river, which will lead them into the heart of the mining region.—Kansas City Jour.

Case—Corwin—Chase.

The Republican meeting held at Columbus on the 31st ult., was attended by over two thousand persons, and was addressed by Mr. Case, the Republican Candidate for Congress against Mr. Cox, Gov. Corwin, and Gov. Chase. A dispatch to the Gazette says:

Case made a capital speech—full of telling points against Cox. He was exceedingly sharp and bitter on poor Sun-Set.

Corwin's speech was bold and decided. He took strong ground in favor of a tariff and declared his everlasting hostility to the extension of slavery.

At the close of Corwin's speech, Gov. Chase arose and spoke briefly, welcoming Corwin as a fellow laborer and co-worker with him in the cause of human liberty, and promising him his co-operation in securing protection to the interests of Ameri- whatever, and in bringing about an economical administration of the government.

be permitted to choose between slavery and freedom," is the argument which has covered with the semblance of justice the acts of the party at last defeated in their attempts to force a disagreeable Constitution on the people of Kansas.

It appears from a speech of the Hon W. W. Boyce, at Yorkville, S. C. a few days ago, as it appeared last spring from the land bribe inserted in the English bill, that not between slavery and freedom, but between slavery or nothing, Kansas was to have its choice! Mr. Boyce said:

"Kansas has voted upon this land proposition and refuses to accept the terms offered, and therefore, remains out of the Union. This conclusively establishes the fact that Kansas is ultra anti-slavery. This being the case the best thing for us is to stay out of the Union. Her coming in would only give an accession of strength to our enemies. If she should stay out forever, all the better.

A Slander Refuted.—A clergyman was charged with having violently dragged his wife from a revival meeting, and compelled her to go home with him. The clergyman let the story travel along until he had a fair opportunity to give it a broadside. Upon being charged with the offence, he replied as follows:

In the first place I never attempted to influence my wife in her views, nor in choice of a meeting. Secondly—my wife has not attended any of the revival meetings in Lowell. In the third place—I have not even attended any of the meetings for any purpose whatever. To conclude—neither my wife nor myself have any inclination to attend these meetings. Finally—I never had a wife.

Revival of Buisiness.—It is very gratifying to observe in a majority of our manufactories and machine shops evidence of a renewal of buisiness. The ring of the hammer and the busy hum of the machinery is increasing everywhere around us. There is a new and more pleasing music in that machinery and hammer than we ever noticed before—it gives us new life and bright hopes for the future. The dark cloud which has hung over us for so long a time begins to break away—and how bright is the first glimmer of light which greets us! The merchant and the mechanic—all must feel the effect of the new impulse in business.—Let every hand and mind be busy, and then take another view of our smiling homes—they will say in more eloquent language than we—"Good-bye hard times."—Hartford (Conn) Times.

Nomination for Congress.

St Louis, Sept. 1.—The Democrats of the Eighth District of Illinois, nominated Philip B. Fouke for Congress, in place of Robert Smith, the present member. Seventy ballots were cast.

Mr John Davidson, living ten miles above Pittsburgh, on the Pennsylvania Canal, says: "When I commenced taking BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS, I could hardly walk. Now I enjoy excellent health."

Pennsylvania State Fair.

We desire to direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement, in another column, of the Annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society, to be held at Pittsburg, commencing on Tuesday, Sept. 28th, and to continue until Friday, October 1st, inclusive. The most liberal arrangements have been made by the managers of the Society to render this the greatest exhibition of the Agricultural and industrial products of our State which has yet been given.—The grounds are very conveniently arranged for the accommodation of stock and implements; the various railroads have agreed to carry gratis all articles intended for the exhibition; the premium list is liberal and comprehensive.

The Secretary of the State Society, Judge A. O. Heister, of Harrisburg, writes to us as follows, in regard to the prospects for an encouraging exhibition:

"Since the List of Premiums was published and circulated, I received a communication from that most enterprising of farmers and stock breeders, John S. Goe, of Fayette county, furnishing me a list of his herd of cattle, twenty in number, for which he will require stalls; also a list of his sheep for which he will require sixteen pens, and of his swine for which he will need five pens. In the same communication he offers an additional sweep-stake premium to those of the published list—entry fee $10—which I take this method of making known.

"For the largest and best display of thorough bred cattle, sheep, &c., owned, and held as farm stock, by the exhibitor other than a dairyman, combining the best properties with regard to feeding, milching, wool-growing, &c. 1st premium, diploma and $15. 2d premium, a full Merino Buck, to be furnished by J. S. Goe, free to the Society.

The Executive Committee, previous to the Exhibition, will announce the judges on this premium, its class, and other necessary information for competitors, and make it known as soon as possible through the press. Recently I received letters from three gentlemen in Ohio, who intend to become exhibitors; one from a gentleman in Virginia; and one from a gentleman from Philadelphia county, who intends bringing on his herd of cattle. All this looks encouraging for a good exhibition. A. O. H."

Frank Jackson.

It will be remembered that this colored individual from New Castle, had been sold into slavery some years since. On Monday last he returned to that place. The Gazette states that he "has been in slavery at the south for about eight years past, having been liberated by the High Court of Moore County, North Carolina. He was decoyed away from W. Greenville, by a horse drover named Charles May, who sold him in Linchburg, Va., about 1850, since which time he has been a kind of circulating medium for chivalry thoughout the whole region extending from Virginia, to the northern extremity of South Carolina; having been passed from hand to hand about twelve times at prices varying from $500 to $1000. At length through the aid of G. C. Mendenhall Esq., of Jamestown, N. C., his case came to trial in Moore county. G. C. Morgan, Esq., of New Castle having been sent on through the instrumentality of Passamore Williamson and others of Philadelphia, identified Frank in Court and he was libera- [illegible] returned to this place [illegible] after very great exertions having been put forth for many years to accomplish that end.

Col. Benton on the Little Giant.—Col. Benton, in conversing with a friend many months since, gave the following summary view of the prospects of Mr. Douglas:

"The Little Giant," said he, "is in too great a hurry to be a great man. He forgets that giants don't wear seven-league boots now a days, and that the first office in an elective government cannot be taken by storm. His ambition is much beyond his ability, for although a fluent speaker, his ideas don't bear the proper proportion to his words, and though he runs fast, he carries little weight. He thinks he can bestride this continent with one foot on the shore of the Atlantic, the other on the Pacific. But he can't do it—he can't do it. His legs are too short."

Pennsylvania.—October Election.—A gentleman residing in the Eastern part of Pennsylvania, possessing ample means of information, in a letter which came to hand yesterday says: "You may be prepared to receive the news of the defeat of the Buchanan Democracy in Pennsylvania in October. I do not believe there will be a Buchanan Democrat elected to Congress—What Democrats are elected will be Douglas men. Old Buck's Kansas policy has killed him off in this State."—Wheeling Intelligencer.

Direct Taxation!—With an annual expenditure of one hundred millions, to be supplied by a revenue of but half that sum, what is to become of us? Thirty millions have been borrowed by the Administration already, and ten millions more are authorized. Thus it will continue to be hereafter, under democratic management. Enormous expenditures have been brought upon the people and there is no hope of deliverance! We warn the People of Pennsylvania, that the whole system of extravagance and corruption must be broken up. Retrenchment must be forced upon Congress; or Direct Taxation is Inevitable.

The Slavery Tournament.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—The great Slavery tournament between Parson Brownlow, of Tennessee, and the Rev. Abram Pryne, of New York, will commence here on Tuesday evening next, and continue for five successive evenings. Mr. Brownlow is, unfortunately, afflicted with Bronchitis, rendering it necessary that his arguments be read by another.

The Original Horse Tamer.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—Professor W. H. Rarey the original horse tamer and brother of Mr. Rarey of European celebrity, will give exhibitions of his wonderful powers over wild horses, in the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association, next week.

Read Carnaghan's advertisement.—He offers inducements in fine clothing, either ready made or ordered. His reputation as a manufacturer of fashionable clothing is well established, and whether entitled to the credit he receives or not, his patrons are best able to judge. The September Term of Court commences on Monday. Do any of our friends purpose honoring us with a small token of their regard? If so, they will find us brimful of gratitude.

The Democratic Resolutions.

The following are the resolutions adopted at the Democratic County Convention last week:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Beaver County have undiminished confidence in the wisdom and patriotism of James Buchanan; that the general policy of his Administration meets our hearty approval; and that his successful efforts in repressing the aggressions of lawless adventurers upon the rights of neighboring States, and in vindicating the honor of our national flag, and enforcing the recognition by foreign powers of its inviolability upon the high seas, entitle him to the lasting gratitude of the American people.

Resolved, That we re-assert our attachment to the great principles of the Democratic party, believing, as heretofore that upon the integrity of that party and a faithful adherance to its principles, depends not only the preservation of the rights of the people and of the States, but the unity of our government, which, in the language of Washington, is the main pillar in the edifice of our independance.

Resolved, That we approve of the nomination, by the late Democratic State Convention, of William A. Porter, for Supreme Judge, and Westley Frost, for Canal Commissioner [illegible] ticket [illegible] that we pledge them [illegible] undivided support.

[illegible] ection with these resolutions, is composed of worthy enough men. Personally, we have not a word to say in derogation of their characters. But, how any set of honest, candid, conscientious men could consent to be placed upon a platform like the above, is not a little surprising, and must have cost not a little effort. What a vast amount of assurance it must require on their part, to present themselves before the people, and say to them that "the policy of Mr. Buchanan meets with their hearty approval," when they know that his policy in relation to Kansas has been wanton, wicked, tyrannical, in defiance of his own solemn pledges, and those of his supporters, and utterly subversive of the cherished rights of freemen. To laud an Administration steeped to the eyes in extravagance, and reeking all over with treachery, is the verriest mockery, and but adding insult to the grossest wrong.

It is a rare thing to see a political body act with such unanimity as characterized the proceedings on Monday last—the candidates all being nominated on first ballot—and presented an agreeable contrast when compared with those of the nameless one which assembled some two months since.—Star.

It would have been a hard matter for such a small body of men to have got up a respectable free fight, even if disposed to have done so. The delegates were as demure, and meek and lowly in spirit as a set of "bound boys." Our neighbor, in preferring a dull, insipid, lifeless Convention, representing little over half the county, to one of large dimensions, full of life and animation, and representing every district, must be the owner of a taste wholly different from that possessed by the generality of mankind.

Mercer County.—Our Republican brethren of Mercer last week nominated the following ticket: Congress—Hon. Wm. Stewart, (by acclamation); Assembly—W. G. Rose, Esq, (also by acclamation); Commissioner—John W. Veach; Auditor—Peter Fritz; Poor Director—J. W. M'Cullough. A resolution, among others, was passed, approving in warm terms the honesty and faithfulness manifested by Hon. Wm. Stewart, during the recent session of Congress.

Another Convention.—The National Democrats of Allegheny County, displeased with the manner in which their late Convention was managed, intend soon to hold another; perhaps more for the purpose of constructing a new platform, than to nominate a different ticket.

Daring Attempt at Robbery.—On Wednesday night last, a most daring attempt was made to rob the dwelling house occupied in common by Mrs. Sutherland, and her son in law, Mr. Richard Madden, about half a mile back of Vanport. Mr. Madden, being far gone in Consumption, retired at an early hour. He was awoke when the rest of the family were about to retire, and continued restless until about one o'clock, when hearing a noise in the cellar, he assumed a sitting posture in his bed, and shortly afterward saw a man ascend the porch and make several efforts to open the door of an adjoining room; failing in this he threw up the sash of the window, and entered. While he was ransacking the room, another and a larger man made his appearance on the porch. Mr. Madden, seeing the second individual, and believing that he and his family were in danger of being murdered, took down a double barreled shot-gun, heavily loaded, and placed a portion of the barrel under the partly raised window of his apartment. While the gun was in this position, the tallest of the two came within a foot of the muzzle; Mr. M. was on the point of pulling the trigger, when dissuaded by his wife, who was fearful that he might possibly be some insane person. Shortly afterwards the other made his exit from the room, and both passed down the stairway. Everything was quiet until about 3 o'clock, when the small man again took up a position on the porch.—While Mr. Madden was watching his movements, he espied the tall stranger also making his way to the house. He immediately knocked out a pane of glass, presented his gun, and fired. The bannisters so obstructed his view, that he is satisfied the shot did not take effect. That, however, was the last that was seen of the villains. Although the room presented a disordered appearance, nothing was taken. Money, evidently, was the object. Both were doubtless disguised—the tall one wore a slouched hat and light clothes; the other was dressed in a dark suit.

Change of Time.—An alteration in the running time on the Cleve. & Pitts. R. R. was made last week. The Evening Express, going East, passes this place about 6.55, P. M.; leaves Pittsburgh next morning at 7.10. The Accommodation Train passes Beaver Station at 11.45, A. M., and returning, leaves Pittsburgh at 2.35, P. M.—giving our citizens barely an hour in which to attend to any business they may wish to transact. This change was doubtless dictated by a desire to form closer connections, but it will have the effect of driving the travel of this vicinity to the other road. If our people were accommodated with a train at an earlier hour in the morning, and afforded ample time for the transaction of their business in Pittsburgh, Beaver Station, in a short time, in point of [illegible] would be second to not more than Beaver Female Seminary.—We acknowledge our indebtedness to Prof. Davenport, for a Catalogue of the officers and pupils of the above named Institution.—Board of Trustees—Rev. J. Monroe, Hon. D. Agnew, Hon B. Adams, G. W. Allison, M. D., R. P. Roberts, John Barclay, Wm. Henry, Hiram Stowe, and Hugh Anderson, Esq's. Faculty—Sam'l Davenport, A. M., President; Mrs. Caroline Davenport, Governess; Prof. Leonhart, and Lady, Music and Modern Languages; Miss M. W. Miller, Mathematics; Miss E. A. Rutan, Natural Science. Between 70 and 80 pupils are in attendance during the present session. The Semi-annual Examination takes place on the 22d inst. The next session opens on the First Wednesday in November.

Sudden Death.—Mr. Boston Small, of Bridgewater, died very suddenly of disease of the heart, on Monday morning last.—He had been feeding his pigs, and as was his custom, stopped to gather any apples that might have fallen during the night.—Being absent longer than usual, search was made, and his dead body discovered under an apple tree; having evidently fallen over while in a stooping posture, and expired almost instantly. Mr. S. was about 80 years of age. He was among the oldest residents of the county; was a worthy, highly esteemed, and useful citizen and for many years past a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church.

Not Disposed to Show Fight.—The Democracy of Lawrence county last week met in Convention and came to the very wise conclusion that it was inexpedient to nominate a County ticket. They, however, placed in nomination John N. McGuffin, Esq., for Congress and Mathias Fisher for Assembly. Had our Democratic friends taken the same course, they would have doubtless saved themselves much unnecessary toil, trouble and expense.

Darlington N. C. R. R.—The friends of the Darlington and New Castle Railroad, held a meeting at New Galilee, on Thursday last, for the purpose of devising means for its early completion. Hugh Marshall, in the chair and E. Sankey, Secretary. Robert Snon, Fergus McClelland, Wm. Eakin, John White and Hugh Marshall, appointed a committee to make report to an adjourned meeting to be held at New Castle.

The Ready Made Clothing sells very fast, at the new Clothing Store of I. N. Atkins, Sign of the Big Hat, he is just receiving another fresh supply. Call and see, for now is the time to buy.

A Mystery.—Some half dozen attempts, upon as many Sabbath days, while the family was at Church, have been made to rob the dwelling of Mr. David Reed, residing on the line between Raccoon and Greene townships, within the last three months. Every part of the house appeared to have been ransacked; drawers taken out, and the contents scattered over the floor, although nothing of particular value has been missed, except some small change that had been taken. When the first attempt was made, a son of Mr. Reed, a lad about 15 years of age, was at his grand-father's, distant some half a mile, and he alleges that, seeing a couple of men about to enter his father's house, he made all the haste in his power, came up to them as they were taking their departure, and fired a pistol, the shot of which he thinks took effect, although no marks of blood were perceptible. Since then, bits of paper, containing language of a threatening character, have been found on different parts of Mr. R's premises. The whole affair is enveloped in mystery, and has caused much excitement in the neighborhood. A close watch has been kept, but nothing tangible discovered.

Marvelous Escape.—A week ago, last Saturday, a son and daughter of Mr. Sam'l Wilson, of Darlington, were on their way, in a buggy, to attend a three-day meeting then in progress at what is known as the "Flying School-house," and when about commencing the decent of a long hill, near the residence of Mr. Rhodes, in Chippewa township, their horse became frightened by the braying of a jack, which they had passed, and in making a plunge, broke one of the shafts; in the effort to check him up, the lines also gave way. With great presence of mind, the occupants of the buggy sprang out, and the horse passed down the hill at frightful speed. The vehicle was smashed to pieces, and about mid-way the horse became detached from it, and made his way to the foot of the hill; here the road takes an abrupt turn, to reach a bridge across a small stream; the horse missed the bridge, struck the opposite bank with great violence, breaking his neck, and killing him almost instantly. The escape of the young man and young lady seems almost miraculous. Had they retained their seats, they would have undoubtedly met with a shocking end.

Strange Freak of Lightning.—Last week the Cotton Factory of the Harmony Society, at Economy, was struck with lightning, and soon a portion of the floor close to the wall, on the second story, was burned through. There was much cotton close by, but, fortunately the flames were discovered and arrested before any material damage had been effected. The building is five stories high, and it remains a mystery how fire was communicated to the second story, while the others escaped; as no farther trace of the bolt could be seen—either made its exit; it was remarked, however, that the walls, inside and out, were intensely hot, which heat could not have been produced by the fire in the second story, because of its short duration.

Returned.—Mr. David Shumaker, and family, returned to this place, last week, from the West. They removed thither about sixteen months ago. Mr. S. represents the times in the West as being exceedingly dull—the shortness of the crops, and the general stagnation of all branches of business, rendering the prospect of a change for the better, anything but promising, for some time to come.

Burglaries.—The store-house of the Messrs. Reeves, in New Brighton, and the private dwellings of Mr. James Wilson and Mr. Funkhouser, were entered by burglars, last week, and relieved of a portion of their contents—the former losing merchandize to the value of about $100, and the latter some eatables in the shape of bread and butter. A man by the name of Wm. Wilson was arrested on suspicion, and in default of bail, has been lodged in jail. On Friday night, we learn, other demonstrations were made, by persons supposed to belong to the same gang, but to what extent we have not been able to ascertain.

Ho! for the West.—Last week Mr. John Baxter, and family, of this place, took up their line of march for the far West. They had their 'traps' all placed in a large two-horse wagon; and, with a couple of big dogs under the aforesaid vehicle, they embarked, hopefully, upon their long, and we trust, prosperous journey.

Beaver Academy.—Both Departments of this venerable Institution seem now to be in the full-tide of successful operation. The Male Department numbers 70. The Female Department 60. Total 130.

The American Agriculturist, for September has been received. In point of size, variety, illustration, and general arrangement, it has no superior. Published at New York, by Orange Judd. $1 per year.

Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 6.—An affray occurred last evening near Waynesboro in this county, in which a man named Osborne was shot dead by two brothers Daniel and David Funk. The dispute arose from Osborne carrying water from Funk's well. Both the brothers have been arrested and are now in prson.

St Louis, Sept. 6.—The Bellville (Ill.) Democrat is authorized to say that Judge Breese is not, and will not be a candidate for the U. S. Senate, in opposition to Douglas.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Editor Argus:—This side of Heaven, pain is ever mingled with our pleasure; this remark finds an appropriate illustration among the closing scenes of the Camp Meeting, that has been held at the beautiful grounds near Tarentum, on the Allegheny river. On Wednesday evening, a large number of persons, from the encampment, took seats in the passenger cars of the express train, on the Alle. Valley Railroad, near Black's Run, about fourteen miles above the city, a brake on the hind car, filled, I think, entirely with persons from the Camp ground—broke down—fell on the rail and threw the car off the track, the coupling broke; and that car, becoming detached from the rest of the train, jumped from the road and turned over and over until it came to the very edge of the river, and down a steep and rugged bank. One young lady, Miss Mary Ann Kincaid, of Pittsburgh, was instantly killed, and between 30 and 40 were injured, more or less; no one fatally.

The scene, that night, was the most horrible I have ever witnessed, the cries of the wounded, mingled with the screams of the frightened, filled the air with such a sound as pained every ear and moved every heart. It was very dark and lights were scarce and the company large, so that the confusion added to the horror. Every one present, with a feeling heart, deeply pitied old Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid. But a few months ago, their son a noble boy, perished in a fire, on Fourth street, while trying to perform his duty as a fireman, and save the lives and property of others. That was a severe stroke on the aged pair; but "afflictions seldom come singly," and they were destined to feel another sore stroke, they were both injured by the fall and both frightened; but, when they found the awful fact that the daughter had been killed, their feelings were indescribable. The first seen of the old man, he was bending over the mangled body of his daughter, with one hand holding his own aching head and with the other trying to gather up and replace the brains of his daughter that lay scattered on the rocks.

I was one of two who went through the train, after the wounded were all taken aboard and took a complete list of all the wounded, with a description of each one's injury; but, that list would not interest your readers, suffice it to say that how any one escaped instant death is a marvel to all the passengers and to all who have since looked upon the frightful place where the car went down.

I might if I had the time and you had the space fill columns of your paper describing the scenes that touched the hearts of those who were administering to the comfort of the wounded; one incident I will relate; I saw one poor woman who was lying helpless and speechless. When raised to her feet, she stood for some time, supported by some kind gentleman, wringing her hands, as if in pain or agony. It proved to be the latter, she broke the silence with the exclamation—uttered only as an affectionate mother could utter it, "oh my child! my child!" At the same time, her child, a little boy, was weeping bitterly some fifteen or twenty feet below, and crying.—"Where is my ma! is my ma killed? oh, find my ma!"

Firm lips quivered. Stout heart failed. Strong men wept, sympathizing women screamed.

I cannot close this article without making remark that, I do think, justice requires upon the sad and painful catastrophe:—When individuals, to whose care are entrusted the lives of thousands, exert themselves as did the employees of the A. V. R. R. on that night, that great mouth-piece of the people—the public press—should not fail to accord them the praise that a faithful attention to duty merits; then, I would mention that two more attentive, careful and obliging men were never on a train, at a smash up, than G. W. Alexander, conductor, and Robert Atchison, engineer of that train.

Among the good Samaritans among the passengers, were the Rev. Mr. Russell of Pittsburgh, and Samuel Young, Esq., Editor of the Clarion Banner. With their very hearts moved and yet their minds cool and collected, they rendered important service—service for which, I think, the press should give the credit.

Yours truly, An Eye Witness.

Sabbath School Celebration.

The Celebration took place at the United Brethren Church, near Industry, on Saturday the 4th. The attendance was large, in all about three hundred, of which 125 were Children and Youth. An appropriate address was delivered by Rev. Waldorf, after which the Children were marched a short distance where a Table was erected, for the occasion, well supplied with all that was calculated to please the eye and satisfy the desire of the youthful appetite. It was a pleasant sight to see so many Children enjoying themselves in such a hearty manner on this occasion.

After the Children were served, the table was re-set and all those present were invited and partook of a rich and abundant collation provided for them by the managers. The exercises throughout were interesting. The sight was calculated to impress on the minds of Parents and Teachers, the great responsibility which rests on them. The thanks of the community are due the Teachers and Managers, for their admirable arrangement. In conclusion, I would say that this speaks well for the little township of Industry, and may her citizens persevere in the good cause, and her Schools, for moral and religious training, be like her population, always on the increase.

Harrisburg, September 6.—The Democratic Conferees of the Sixteenth Congressional District have not yet made a nomination. They first met on Wednesday morning last at Bridgeport, when they adjourned till this morning. To day they again commenced and balloted several times with the same result. The Candidates are Fisher, of York county; Ahl, of Cumberland, and M'Intyre, of Perry county. Each have the Conferees of their respective counties. They meet again to morrow for balloting, and some of the Conferees express their determination to leave in the evening if the nomination is made or not. It is generally believed however, that the nomination will be made to morrow. The meeting has created considerable excitement among the politicians generally.

Notice is Hereby Given

That every person, except Justices of the Peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States, or of this State, or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or agent, who is or shall have been employed under the legislative, executive or judiciary department of this State or the United States, or of any city or incorporated district: and also that every member of Congress, and of the State legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commissioner of any incorporated district, is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of Inspector, Judge, or Clerk of any election of the Commonwealth, and that no Judge, Inspector, or any other officer of such election, shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for.

Also, in and by the 4th section of an Act approved the 16th of April, 1840, it is enacted that the 13th section of the Act passed July 2d, 1839, entitled an Act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth, shall not be construed so as to prevent any military officer or borough officer from serving as Judge, Inspector or Clerk at any General or Special Election in this Commonwealth.

Also, the said Act of Assembly, entitled "An Act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," passed July 2d, 1839, provides as follows, viz:

That the Judges and Inspectors chosen as aforesaid, shall meet at the respective places appointed for holding the election in the district to which they respectively belong, before 9 o'clock on the morning of the 2d Tuesday of October, in each and every year, and each of said Inspectors shall appoint one clerk, who shall be a qualified voter of said district.

In case the person who shall have received the highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend on the day of any election, then the person who shall have received the second highest number of votes for Judge at the next preceding election shall act as Inspector in his place; and in case the person who shall have received the highest number of votes for Inspector shall not attend, the person elected Judge shall appoint an inspector in his place; and if the person elected Judge shall not attend, then the Inspector who received the highest number of votes shall appoint a Judge in his place; and if any vacancy shall continue in the board for the space of one hour after the time fixed by law for the opening of the election, the qualified voters of the township, ward, or district for which such officer shall have been elected, present at the place of election, shall elect one of their number to fill such vacancy.

It shall be the duty of the Assessors respectively to attend at the place of holding every general, special or township election, during the time said election is kept open, for the purpose of giving information to the Inspectors and Judges when called on in relation to the rights of any person assessed by them to vote at such election, and such other matters in relation to the assessment of voters as the said Inspectors or either of them shall from time to time require.

No person shall be permitted to vote at any election as aforesaid, other than a white freeman of the age of twenty-one years, or more, who shall have resided in this State at least one year, and in the election district where he offers to vote at least ten days immediately preceding such election, and within two years paid a State or County tax which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election. But a citizen of the United States, who has previously been a qualified voter of this State, and removed therefrom and returned, and who shall have resided in the election district, and paid taxes as aforesaid shall be entitled to vote after residing in the State six months. Provided, that the white freemen, citizens of the United States, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years and having resided in this State one year and in the election district ten days as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote although they have not paid taxes.

No person shall be permitted to vote whose name is not contained in the list of taxable inhabitants furnished by the Commissioners, unless, first, he produce a receipt for the payment within two years, of a State or county tax, assessed agreeably to the constitution, and give satisfactory evidence either on his own oath or affirmation of another, that he has paid such tax, or on failing to procure a receipt, shall make oath of the payment thereof, or second, if he claims a right to vote by being an elector between the age of twenty one and twenty-two years, he shall depose on oath or affirmation that he has resided in the State at least one year before his application, and make such proof of the residence in the district as is required in this act; and that he does verily believe, from the account given him that he is of the age aforesaid, and gives such other evidence as is required by this act: whereupon the names of the persons so admitted to vote shall be inserted into the alphabetical list by Inspectors, and a note made opposite thereto by writing the word "tax," if he shall be admitted to vote by reason of having paid a tax, or the word "age," if he shall be admitted on account of his age, and in either case, the reason of such votes shall be called out by the clerks, who shall make the like notes in the list of voters kept by them.

In all cases where the name of the person claiming to vote is not found on the list furnished by the Commissioners and assessor, or his right to vote, whether found there or not, is objected to by any qualified citizen, it shall be the duty of the Inspector to examine such persons on oath as to qualification, and, if he claims to have resided within the State one year or more, his oath shall be sufficient proof thereof, but he shall make proof by at least one competent witness, who shall be a qualified elector, that he has resided within the district for more than ten days immediately preceding said election; and shall also himself swear his bona fide residence, in pursuance of his lawful calling, is within the district for the purpose of voting therein.

If any person shall prevent or attempt to prevent an officer of an election, or use or threaten any violence to any such officer, or shall interrupt or improperly interfere with him in the execution of his duty, or shall block up or attempt to block up the window or avenue to any window where the same may be holden, or shall riotously disturb the peace of such election, or shall use or practice any intimidation, threats, force or violence, with design to influence unduly, or overawe any elector, or to prevent him from voting, or to restrain the freedom of choice, such person, on conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned, for any time not less than twelve months; and if it shall be shown to the court where the trial of such offence shall be had, that the person offending was not a resident of the city, ward, district or township where the said offence was committed and not entitled to vote therein, then on conviction he shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

If any person or persons shall make any bet or wager upon the result of any election within this Commonwealth, or shall offer to make any such bet or wager, either by verbal proclamation thereof, or by any written or printed advertisement, challenge or invite any person or persons to make such a bet or wager, upon conviction thereof, he or they shall forfeit and pay three times the amount so bet or offered to bet.

If any person not by law qualified shall fraudulently vote at any election within this commonwealth, or being otherwise qualified, shall vote out of his proper district, or if any person, knowing the want of such qualification, shall aid or procure such person to vote, the person or persons so offending shall, on conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding two hundred dollars and be imprisoned for any term not exceeding three months.

If any person shall vote at more than one election district, or otherwise fraudulently fold and deliver to the inspectors two tickets together, with the intention to vote illegally, or shall vote the same, or if any person shall advise or procure another to do so, he or they so offending shall on conviction, be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned for any term not less than three nor more than twelve months.

If any person not qualified to vote in this commonwealth agreeably to law, (except the sons of qualified citizens) shall appear at any place of election for the purpose of issuing tickets, or of influencing the citizens qualified to vote, he shall on conviction, forfeit and pay any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for every such offence, and be imprisoned for any term not exceeding three months.

The Return Judges of the several districts aforesaid, are requested to meet at the Court House, in Beaver, on the first Friday after the second Tuesday of October next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to perform those things required by law.

Also by "An Act relating to the Elections of this Commonwealth," passed the 2d day of July, 1839, it is provided and directed as follows:

SECTION 81. When two or more counties shall compose a district for the choice of a member or members of the Senate of this Commonwealth or of the House of Representatives of the United States, or of this Commonwealth, the Judges of the election in each county, having met as aforesaid, the Clerks shall make out a fair statement of all the votes which shall have been given at such election, within the county, for every person voted for, as such member or members, which shall be signed by said judges, and attested by the clerks; and one of the said judges shall take charge of such certificate, and shall produce the same at a meeting of one judge from each county, at such place, in such district, as is or may be appointed by law for the purpose; which meeting shall be held on the seventh day after the election.

SEC. 82. The judges of the several counties having met, as aforesaid, shall cast up the several county returns and make duplicate returns of all the votes given for such office, in said districts and of the name of the person or persons elected, and one of said returns, for each office, shall be deposited in the office of the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which they shall meet, and the other shall be by said judges deposited in the nearest Post Office, sealed and directed as in parts two and three of the eightieth section of this act.

SEC. 83. It shall also be the duty of the return judges, in every case, to transmit to each of the persons elected to serve in Congress, or in the Senate, or in the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, a certificate of his election, within five days after the day of making such return.

The return judges of the Congressional District composed of the counties of Mercer, Beaver and Lawrence, and the return judges of the Representative District, composed of the counties of Beaver and Lawrence will meet at the Court House in New Castle according to the 81st section above cited.

Where they may be consulted daily, (Sunday excepted,) for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and ALL OTHER CHRONIC AFFECTIONS connected with, or predisposing to PULMONARY DISEASE, including Catarrh, Heart Disease, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Gastrites, Female complaints, &c.

DRS. FITCH & SYKES would state that their treatment of Consumption is based upon the fact that the disease exists in the blood and system at large, both before and during its development in the lungs, and they therefore employ Mechanical, Hygienic and Medical remedies to purify the blood and strengthen the system. With these, they use MEDICINAL INHALATIONS, which they value highly, but only as Palliatives, which used alone have no Curative effects, and Invalids are earnestly cautioned against wasting the precious time of curability on any treatment based upon the plausible, but false idea that the seat of the disease can be reached in a direct manner by Inhalation, for as before stated, the seat of the disease is in the blood, and its effects only in the lungs.

CASH PAID FOR

EGGS,

By A. S. HARVEY,
June 9, 1858. Bridgewater, Pa.

A Card from Dr James M. Jarrett, of THE NEW-YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.

My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided, not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicine are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS.—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.

BOERHAVE'S

HOLLAND BITTERS

JE MAINTIENDRAI

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,

And various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburns, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided Cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Bœrhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country.—Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE!—Whoever expects to find in this a beverage, will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Bœrhave's Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

☞ Sold at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5,—sold by the proprietors, Benj. Page, jr., & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

September Appointments.

DR. H. TUBBS,

Will be at his room, Bridgewater, Pa., Lehmer's Hotel, Monday, Sep. 20th, 1858; Wellsville, O., U. S. Hotel, Saturday Sep. 18th.

For consultation upon all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Spleen; also Dropsy, Gravel, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Debility, Dyspepsia, Female diseases, Ague and Fever, Fits, Impurities of the blood, Eruptions, Cancers, Ulcers, and all other varieties of long standing complaints, both external and internal.

For some ten years Dr. T. has devoted his entire time to chronic diseases, treating thousands annually, many of whom had exhaused every other resource within reach. In no case are mineral or other poisons employed, nor does he make sick to make well, or tear down to built up again. The medicines can be taken with safety by the most delicate, and patiens may remain at home, and continue with prudence their ordinary diet and excercise. Many have recovered under the treatment after friends and physicians had given up all hope, the indisputable evidence of which can always be furnished.—Invalids, however reduced or despairing, are invited to call, and may be assured that no encouragement will be given or expense incurred without a corresponding prospect of recovery.

URBANA, Champaign Co., O., Aug. '58.

DR. TUBBS:—Dear Sir, Some time since I obtained a prescription from you, for myself and little son four years old. From early infancy the child had had swelling, pain and almost constant discharges from his ears, attended with partial deafness. Since using your medicines, the discharges which were very offensive have ceased, and the hearing restored. My own health had been poor for a year or more—was greatly afflicted with indigestion; had neither strength, energy or ambition; heart would throb violently, breathing depressed, and for two months before seeing you, cough was distressing. At time of my first call at your room it required considerable effort to get about, and I sweat profusely from little exertion. The weather was warm, yet much to my surprise strength gained rapidly, so much that I soon began to work some, and of late have labored steadily. I also gained seven pounds in flesh the first month. Having experienced so decided improvement myself (that, too, after a year's ineffectual treatment before) and seen equally good effects upon several of my neighbors, I can conscientiously and cheerfully recommend your treatment to all who may be so unfortunate as to suffer as I have done.

I reside two miles west of Mechanicsburgh, where I have been for the last twenty years.

Yours truly, ALBERT MOODY.

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple.

He has tried it in over 1100 cases, and never failed except in two cases. (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of Pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of Biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the Eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and bloches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers,

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Scrofula.

A benifit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appear to me surprising; first that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it and sold about six bottles per day—In April 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent-medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a desease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people cured by it. For the various discases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever Ague, Pain in the Side, Discases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the Kidneys &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.

No change of diet ever necessary —eat the best you get and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS—Adults one table spoonful per day—Children over ten years dessert spoonfull. Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day. Manufactured by

DOES Disease Originate in Impurity of the Blood?

This is a question of vital importance, and one which has never been satisfactorily disposed of by the professors who teach the healing art. Some maintain—and especially the old school Physicians—that life lives in the blood, and therefore all diseases originate in it—but modern science avers that ailments have their origination in both the solids and fluids of the body. That the latter preponderate, however, is a fixed fact, and medical skill has clearly demonstrated that at least two thirds of the ills that human flesh is heir to, have their source in an

IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD!

As for instance, in the long catalogue, such as Scrofula, Tetter, "Barber's Itch," Pimples Blotches, Erysipelas, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, discharges from the Ear, Fever Sores, or irruptive diseases of any kind. These are ascertained by well known medical laws to arise from bad blood—while the highest medical authorities declare that most fevers originate in the same manner, and more particularly Typhoid and scarlet—the former being an internal, and the latter an external irruptive disease; and in all persons attacked by these maladies the blood is found to be either coagulated, or of a dark unhealthy color.

To ward off a large majority of diseases, as well as to cure a number which have already seized upon the system, it is necessary to

PURIFY THE BLOOD.

Lindsey's Improved Blood Searcher does not claim to be a

UNIVERSAL PANACEA

for every disease known, but the proprietors claim for it the power not only of draining out all impurities of the blood, but by the skillful combination of well known vegetable remedies, it will cure all diseases arising from a deranged state of the liver, drive out dyspepsia, and give renewed tone and vigor to the stomach.—That the Blood Searcher is all that is claimed for it, the proprietors can produce

THE PROOF.

It is only a few years since it was discovered, and yet it has grown into such a business that a large Laboratory has been built expressly for its manufacture—a large number of men employed in putting it up, and still the

SUPPLY DOES NOT EQUAL THE DEMAND!

We ask any candid man, could this be so, if the Medicine did not possess all the virtues claimed for it?

The Proprietors have hundreds of certificates from men of probity and standing in the community, showing what the medicine is doing daily for the suffering.

ASK ANY PERSON who has ever used the Blood Searcher whether relief was experienced.

Let the afflicted give it a trial—a single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its efficacy.
